

Spain, and Italy, will be, it appears, one of the most

In Paris amusements are going on as usual in the public gardens, theatres, and other places of amusement, though no new plays have been given this week.

On the day of St. John, the 24th inst., all the young men of France celebrated the usual festival, which consists in lighting numerous wood piles and bonfires at the hour of midnight. It is an ancient custom, of the times of paganism, which has been maintained till our epoch, though it is now attributed to the earliest era of Christianity. It was indeed a very curious sight, on Friday last, to see on the heights of Paris the "bonfires" lighted up, which had been organized, and to hear the shouts of the young men who took part in these demonstrations. In the provinces, and particularly in the South, the foire was celebrated with much pageantry, and elicited much pleasure among all those who took part in it.

The workmen are busily engaged in the embellishment of Paris; the building of the new ways rue de la Paix and Boulevard St. Germain, and the embellishments made to the Bois de Boulogne, are progressing with much rapidity. The interior of the Palace of the Tuileries is also given up to the painters, glaziers and upholsterers, who will render the apartments comfortable and ready to receive the Emperor on his return from St. Cloud.

The Church of Notre Dame des Victoires of Paris, has been honored by the Pope with the present of a gold and diamond wreath, to be placed on the head of the statue of the Virgin, which is valued at 30,000 francs. This precious jewel will be inaugurated on the 15th of August, the day of the Assumption.

At Seville, in Spain, the Madonna of the Cathedral was presented with a magnificent necklace adorned with precious stones, and encircled with gold, silver, and silk, which was made by a lady of Madrid, and is said to be worth 75,000 francs. The Queen, Isabella of Spain, who had ordered it, has been obliged to wear it, and she has given it to the Regent, and will assist at the mass of inauguration, which will also be celebrated on the 15th of August.

The Imperial yacht Queen Hortense, which is to be sent to New York, is now being repaired at Havre. All the sails will receive a new costume, consisting of white pants, or blue cloth pants, for summer, and a white suit, embroidered on the back with the Imperial initials "N. E." (Napoleon and Eugenie).

A very odd monster was exhibited a few days ago at the Academy of Medicine, which created the utmost curiosity. It is the produce of a cow, and this horrible being had the head of a lion, the body of a lion, his four paws, like those of a pretty dog, are garnished with nails similar to those of a pig. The body resembles that of a calf, but there is no tail, and no part to be seen anywhere. The monster gave birth to this new creature at Treves, in the department of the North. When I beheld this disgusting brute, I could not but think of Mr. Barnum, and regret not having a power of attending to his exhibitions.

The number of emigrants for the United States has been considerable this week, and amounted to 495; They are all German, and embarked at Havre for New York. There have been also 713 emigrants who have left Hamburg for America, and may be seen, the emigration from Europe is daily increasing.

A very wonderful discovery has been made, which is worth being distributed gratis to the New World. It is the produce of a cow, and this horrible being had the head of a lion, the body of a lion, his four paws, like those of a pretty dog, are garnished with nails similar to those of a pig. The body resembles that of a calf, but there is no tail, and no part to be seen anywhere. The monster gave birth to this new creature at Treves, in the department of the North. When I beheld this disgusting brute, I could not but think of Mr. Barnum, and regret not having a power of attending to his exhibitions.

Several cannon balls, made from skins, have lately been discovered in the ruins of the city of Carthage, in the walls of Thionville, according to the ancient chronicles of France, were protected, in 1324, by the Emperor Charles V. The Emperor Charles V. was general in the year 1339. The Musee used them in 1345, the English in 1346, at the battle of Cressy, and the Venetians in 1380.

To-night Mr. Auguste Maillie, formerly editor of Philadelphie, will exhibit in the Salle Barthelmy the painting of the Emancipation of the Negro, which he painted in the United States during a certain period. It is generally believed that the Parisian population will give its utmost attention to this exhibition, which will attend.

At the Hippodrome M. Letur, the "would be" inventor of a flying machine, made another experiment, on Tuesday last, which was a real failure. M. Mary, the poet, was called to St. Cloud on Tuesday last to read his new drama, called "Guerre et Paix," and to perform it. The drama is a hero. He received many compliments, and the work will be performed for the reopening of the Odeon.

B. H. R.

PARIS, July 7, 1853.
"Good Weather at Last—Effects of the Late Continental Storms—High Prices of Food—American Tourists—The Fourth of July—Emigration to America—Suicide of an American Ship Captain—Miscellaneous Incidents—Theatre—Selection of a "Star" for Niblo's, &c."

The hot weather has come at last, and it is generally supposed, owing to certain astronomical prophecies, that the remainder of the month will be as burning as it is to-day. The magnificent thermometer of Chevalier, which is the regulator of Paris, marks to-day 35 degrees in the shade, and 39 in the spots exposed to the sun. It is time, indeed, that it should have fine weather, after the stormy month of June that we have experienced all over Europe.

The news which we have received here about the temperature elsewhere, during the last week of the last month, is really terrible. In several parts of France, and particularly in the departments of Poitou and Loire, near Macon, the rain has been so abundant that the vine and corn crops are much damaged. The heat was terrible, and there were several hail-storms which weighed two hundred and fifty grains, and one particularly, weighing eight hundred and twenty-five grains, which was as big as the fist. Several people were wounded by these mommoth hailstones, and one woman killed, having been struck on the temple. At Macon, St. Etienne, Villefranche, and several other places, the thunder claps were so violent and so often repeated that it seemed to many that a battle was being fought in the neighborhood. In Switzerland, at Trachselwald, the damage caused to the proprietors is calculated to amount to 400,000 francs, and the Common Council of the place will have to pay 100,000 for the repairs to be made to the ways and roads of the country. At Sunnwalds there have been counted more than eighteen hundred and sixty ditches made by the water, and the damage amounts to 800,000 francs.

At last the rain was thus raging in France and Switzerland, a violent shock of earthquake, which lasted about one minute and six seconds, took place on the 26th, at Mantua, in Italy. Nothing was injured, but the fright of the Mantuans was extreme. In such an enormous state of the weather the crops are much injured, and the proprietors are perturbed by the people are so great that the proprietors and other officers of the government have ordered the editors and reporters of newspapers not to publish anything which would augment the fears of the people. Moreover, the high prices of the fruits, vegetables, meats, and all the necessaries of life, which have been considerably augmented, and will no doubt still further augment with the drought. Bread is worth forty centimes (eight cents) per kilogramme, and according to the price will be increased before the end of the month. It is well known that there are some speculators in France who are buying up all the grain with the expectation of having a good sale when the scarcity shall arrive. But the government has issued a decree by which the exportation of the grain is prohibited, and the severest punishment is threatened in case of detection.

The fruits, despite these high prices, are plentiful this year. I will only mention as a specimen the quantity of cherries exported from France, which amounts to the sum of 2,400 francs worth were sent to Paris and London during last week. The whole crop of that village will produce the sum of 20,000 francs.

Paris is now deserted by the fashionable people, who have taken to the seashore, or to the watering places of Europe.

The Americans visiting Europe this year are not long stopping at Paris, and they are travelling, for the most part, in Germany and Switzerland. This is due to the fact that the Americans are not so much interested in the arrangements for the celebration of the Seventy-seventh anniversary of the independence of America. Several noble-hearted citizens of the Union, belonging to no other, manifested the desire of uniting with all their brethren in America, to engage the Jardens d'Ardenne and to give a grand dinner followed by a grand ball, at which all the ladies of America, and many distinguished people, would have been invited. Unfortunately, this plan was not accepted by the citizens, who have so often mentioned, and members of these aristocratic classes make such an opposition to the project that it was totally abandoned. In the meantime, Mr. and Mrs. Mouton organized a feite in their magnificent villa and chateau, near Dijon, where a number of Americans were invited. Mr. Mouton, an American gentleman of much respectability, gave a dinner to about twenty

One of the Paris papers, the Union, of the 3d of July, has an article on exhibitions in general, and on those of New York and Dublin in particular. We translate the following extracts from it:—
But if we have only the future of universal exhibitions; if we think that they inaugurate the resumption of a foreign mercantile movement which every one ought to aid in promoting; if we are convinced that the force of circumstances which have given them birth, ought also to perpetuate and regulate them, we do not experience the least inquietude on the exhibitions announced for this year at Dublin and at New York. Everything makes us fear that both these enterprises will be without result this year, at least. The season, without having been so far so favorable as already, presents the question of war-complicates men's minds, and turns them aside from the interest they might attach to the commercial and industrial solemnities of the exhibitions. Indeed, the events which have been going on in the difference between Russia and the Porte are not, on all points, in the favor of the objects of equal promotion; but, on the other side, the news arriving from Ireland and American delays, and mentions successive adjustments, which do not give rise to the commerce and industry, which time is too precious to be lost in appointments which are not based on exactitude. Exhibitions, like markets, can only be frequented on condition of their taking place exactly at the date for which they are announced. It is this thing peculiar for New York—that if the exhibition there were postponed to 1854, which is by no means impossible, this fact would only be a return to the decision come to last year by the undertakers of the exhibition—a decision which we have never forgotten. It is the secretary of the New York

Exhibition, Mr. J. B. McKim, who has been appointed as the Procurator, which was considered as a very fine affair.

The number of emigrants for the United States is daily increasing, and on Friday last 642 Germans, men, children and women, passed through Paris on their way to the United States, for the purpose of settling in the land of the free. On Monday last, since January, 1853, (six months), the number of emigrants is calculated to be 200,000, and all these emigrants are well off, going to the Western States, to the freemen, far from the bondage of European despotism.

The Bridge of Iena, opposite the military school and the Champ de Mars, has lately been embellished by four magnificent groups of horse, representing the four great empires, and the four great nations, a man warrior carrying a flag surmounted by the S. P. Q. R. sign, and a splendid horse; third, an Arabian with his noble animal; and the fourth, a Franco driving the time of Clovis, with a large and strong mounted archer, who has received another de-lin-eation in consequence of the complications of policy in the East. So, the opening of the U. S. Exhibition—first announced for the 2d of May, and finally fixed for the 15th of July—must be, if everything is ready on the latter date, the most successful of the century, or be accomplished in the absence of the French Commissioner, who, furnished with his double commission for Dublin and for New York, would remain in Paris awaiting a suitable means of transport.

The French government, though engaged in a note inserted in the official journal—the French manufacturers, and particularly those occupied in the fabrication of articles of trade for domestic uses, to the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

short time after, with more or less success.

M. Sallandrowe has been announced by the French government commissioner to the exhibition of the United States, by the same title as the English government. But M. Sallandrowe has accepted the functions of French Commissioner to the Dublin Exhibition, and we can hardly explain how he can be present at both points at the same time.

The Dublin Exhibition would appear indeed to have been opened rather for the workmen occupied inside, than for the visitors and the representatives of foreign exhibitors, and nothing is said of the hour of the opening, and nothing is said of the things, or if the presence of the French commissioner is not yet necessary at Dublin, it may be equally delayed at New York, since the steamer Queen Hortense, a national vessel, which was to have conveyed M. Sallandrowe, has received another de-lin-eation in consequence of the complications of policy in the East. So, the opening of the U. S. Exhibition—first announced for the 2d of May, and finally fixed for the 15th of July—must be, if everything is ready on the latter date, the most successful of the century, or be accomplished in the absence of the French Commissioner, who, furnished with his double commission for Dublin and for New York, would remain in Paris awaiting a suitable means of transport.

The French government, though engaged in a note inserted in the official journal—the French manufacturers, and particularly those occupied in the fabrication of articles of trade for domestic uses, to the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors. The French government would appear to have wished to have the exhibition of the United States, and to the exhibition in the latter, as it had been long in exhibition, by reading a communique charged with representing the interests of the French exhibitors.

principals, and we scarcely believe that she will make the attempt in the present state of the Turkish government, and in opposition to the other great powers which have guaranteed the integrity of Turkey; and it seems impossible to submit to the pretensions of the Russian government without sacrifice. Should Turkey, however, be taken by Russia, it would be difficult to judge of the effect that would be produced in France, Belgium, Italy and the German States. The Russian government, however, is prevented from Russia from extending her territory in this direction towards England. We can see no danger to encounter from Russia with regard to our political position; and in the present disposition of Europe, the Russian government, in all its aims, is the signal for a general rising of the people throughout Hungary, Poland and Italy. So that if Russia should determine upon following up her demands by pouring down an overwhelming force upon Constantinople, it is not probable that she would find persons struggling for freedom will throw themselves into the hands of the Autocrat. It is impossible to look in the direction for the spread of political liberty throughout Europe